Subject: Preparation of Subversive Periodicals "Emancipation," "Unity", "Women" and "War Voice" - Eleven bases raided and eighteen arrests made - Further Report

Made by: D.S.I. Mac Adie Forwarded by: C. Gaussoin

CONFIDENTIAL

Interrogation of Tsai Lan (蔡蘭), important propaganda agent for the secret national salvation publication "Unity" has been concluded and full statement, together with the procedure for the editing, printing and distribution of the "Unity," which has been taken from him, is attached as Item I of Appendix "A". In this appendix are also included the statements of the 10th, 11th, 12th and 13th accused.

The questioning has revealed much of the organization of national salvation propaganda in Shanghai but it would be necessary to apprehend Pan Ts Ming (潘子明), Tsai Lan's immediate superior to gain full details regarding the identity of persons behind the movement. There is no doubt, however, that this propaganda work is financed and supported by prominent local Chinese educationalists. There is also no doubt that the active agents find a haven in the French Concession to carry out their plans, that material for the publications is gathered in that district and that the agents meet in the Concession to discuss their activities. Printing work, however, has been carried out in the Settlement and it is also true that the bulk of the propaganda matter finds its way to the Settlement. In fact it may be said to follow in the path of the educationalist, it is sent to schools through the medium of masters or students who are members of the Cultural or Students Circles National Salvation Associations, to refugee camps through the refugee schools maintained in the camps and to vocational circles and factories through vocational schools and night schools for workers. It has been ascertained that no less than 6,700 copies of each issue of the publication "Unity" have been distributed in Shanghai every week. It is not to be assumed that the propaganda agents follow the natural medium for distribution, the schools, but that those in charge of educational matters support and encourage the introduction of the literature. Throughout the enquiries into organizations, secret or open, which sponsor national salvation propaganda, the name of Mr. H.C. Chen, Chinese Education Officer of the S.M.C., appears in the background. It may be safely said that the Educational Department of the International Relief Committee, which is responsible for the education of refugees in its camps and which is controlled by Mr. H.C. Chen, employs none but members of the secret Cultural Circles National Salvation Association or Vocational Circles National Salvation Association, who are mostly leftist elements, for teaching and training. The instructions to these teachers are to use every opportunity to instil national salvation propaganda into the refugees and imbue them with the anti-Japanese spirit by means of lectures, dramas, "pih pao" (wall papers), etc.

Local national salvation elements have a federation entitled the "Shanghai Various Circles National Salvation Association. In order to systematically control the various walks of people in Shanghai, the association is divided into the Cultural, Students, Vocation, Labourers and Women's Circles' National Salvation Associations.

The magazine "Unity" is the mouthpiece of the Various Circles National Salvation Association and the Cultural Circles National Salvation Association was held responsible for the publication, although all the other national salvation circles assisted in the contributing of articles.

These national salvation associations were formed openly following the outbreak of the hostilities in August, 1937, but as soon as the Chinese forces withdrew from Shanghai, they became secret organizations. Even up to the present, they still exist secretly.

Coming back to the secret publication "Unity", which was prepared by the Cultural Circles National Salvation Association, enquiries show that numerous persons comprise its committees, but the majority of these people have left Shanghai for the interior to conduct national salvation propaganda there. Among those remaining in Shanghai, it is known that Chang Chung-ling (張宗麟), Liang Sz-jung (梁士純), and Pan Ts-ming alias Pan Fang (潘梦) are the leading members. Pan Ts-ming is the direct chief of Tsai Lan (15th accused) and is the Chief of the Propaganda Department. This man disappeared after the arrest of the 15th accused and before the Police visit at his home at Lane 559-B, 11 Rue Lafayette.

Chang Chung-ling is known to be a teacher in the Chung Hwa No.4 Vocational School, Pootung Guild Building, 1454 Avenue Edward VII, but enquiries show that he has not put in an appearance there since the arrest of Tsai Lan.

He is also known as a leftist writer, formerly connected with the Sung Weh Bookstore, Lane 384, 4 Foochow Road, which shop has been removed to Hongkong.

Liang Sz-jung is known to be ex-Chief of the Journalism Course of the Yenching University and ex-Professor of Latinized Chinese in the Shanghai University. After a trip to the interior following the withdrawal of Chinese forces from Shanghai, he returned to Shanghai from Hankow at the beginning of June, 1938, it being alleged at the time by the Nippo that he had been sent here for the express purpose of conducting national salvation and leftist propaganda. At 7 p.m., June 4, 1938, with the assistance of Miss Huang Ting-wei (黃定慧), Sub-Manageress of the Tung Yih Trust Company, 384 Peking Road, and concurrently Chairman of the Women's Circles' National Salvation Association (secret), he arranged a dinner party in the Chinese Bankers' Club, 59 Hongkong Road. During the party, Chang Chung-ling (referred to above) and Mr. H.C. Chen, Chinese Education Officer of the S.M.C. were among the guests present (for full particulars of the dinner party vide Special Branch report dated July 24, 1938 on the subject of "Anti-Japanese Leftist Writers in Shanghai").

It will be noted that Chang Chung-ling, Liang Dz-jung, Kwoh Tseng-yih (16th accused), Miss Chiang Ping (姜平) and Miss Wei Yuin-ying (尉遠纓) (both Chiang and Wei are committee members of the Women's Circles National Salvation Association - they held secret national salvation meetings with the other members including the 16th accused, record of minutes of which has been obtained by the Municipal Police from the property of the 15th accused Tsai Lan seized in the 1st Refugee Camp, Rue Massanet) are all on the committee in charge of the Shanghai Municipality Supplementary Education Association, Room 204, 210 Kiukiang Road. It is registered with the Municipal Police. In this Supplementary Education Association, Mr. H.C. Chen, Chinese Education Officer of the S.M.C., is again an honorary committee member and when enquiries regarding this organization were made from him by the Municipal Police, he stated that the association was formed by "bona fide" members of the local teaching circles (Vide Special Branch report dated 18/8/38 on the subject of its application for registration). It has been an experience that local supplementary schools are the hotbeds of national salvation and subversive activities. For instance, the now defunct Liang Zai Supplementary School in the Continental Emporium Building, Nanking Road, led in the national salvation movement prior to the hostilities. In this school, there were cells of the Students', Vocational and Women's Circles National Salvation Associations.

Overleaf is a sketch plan showing the structure of national salvation propaganda organization in Shanghai together with the names of those known to be concerned in the movement :

According to Tsai Lan, he was responsible only for the magazine "Unity", the mouthpiece of the Cultural Circles National Salvation Association. Although the printing of the other publications, "War Voice", "Emancipation" and "Women" was done through the Medhurst Road base, arrangements for this were made by Pan Ts Ming direct. "Emancipation", the communist journal, is said to be published in Shensi, seat of the Communist Anti-Japanese University (抗日大學) and is only reproduced in Shanghai. As regards "Women," the 16th accused Pan Kwoh Tseng-yih, wife of Pan Ts Ming, and the 1st accused Sung Yue (沈裕) who were arrested at Lane 559-B, 11 Rue Lafayette and later released, together with Tsai Ying, a cousin of Tsai Lan's, and Woo Sui-tsing (吳水清), the latter's sweetheart and a teacher at the 1st Refugee Camp of the International Relief Committee, are actively engaged in its production. The magazine is the mouthpiece of the Women's Circles National Salvation Association headed by Miss Huang Ting Wei.

In the possession of Tsai Lan (15th accused) were found two booklets containing notes on minutes of secret meetings held by the committee members of the Women's Circles' National Salvation Association. Tsai Lan states that they belonged to his cousin Tsai Ying (蔡瑛) alias Tsai Hsia-yung (蔡夏蓉) and Tsai Hsin-yeu (蔡梓友), living at Lane 225, 30 Rue Pere Robert, who is a committee member of the Women's Circles National Salvation Association and who is in hiding. From the notes, it has been gathered that the following females

(17) Miss Chang (張) and Miss Pu Sung (普生)	Representing the Chinese Y.W.C.A.

Apart from the usual organization, the Women's Circles National Salvation Association has a Liaison Department and a Refugee Education Department, which shows that women agitators are also paying much attention towards influencing the refugees. The following activities are found recorded in the notes of minutes of the secret meetings :-

1. Holding of a national goods exhibition.
2. Collecting of contributions from local women for the upkeep of the secret magazine entitled "Unity."
3. Investigating of shops and firms dealing in Japanese goods.
4. Launching of the "Returning to Native Place" and "Thrift" movement (the latter movement to be carried out openly by the Women's Christian Temperance Association, 80 Love Lane).

Subject Secret National Salvation Publications - Release of accused on bail bond

Made by D.S.I. Mac Adie Forwarded by G. Crawford D.S.

The 8th accused Tsang Vung Sing (張文生), apprentice of the secret type setting base at Lane 597, No.7 Medhurst Road was released on the afternoon of January 11 on guarantee bond supplied by his grand-father named Tsang Moh-ling (張木林), master of the Tsang Zung Shing (張順昌) Cotton Shop, 239 Weihaiwei Road. The youth is being sent to join his father in their country home at Pootung.

The 5th and 6th accused, Wong Deu Chi (王樹基) and Fang Yue-keng (方友根), also apprentices of the above base were released on the morning of January 12th. Bond for the first named was supplied by Kan Zien-keng (甘泉根), his cousin and a foreman employed by the Nyi Sung (義生) Rubber Factory, 83 Penang Road. The second named was released on guarantee supplied by Yue Chia Toong (余家棟), the electrician of the Cotton Goods Exchange, 260 Avenue Edward VII.

Wong Deu Chi is being sent to join his parents in his native home near Kading. The last named Fang Yue Keng will remain with his guarantor and father named Fang Ching-sung (方金生), a hawker, at the Cotton Goods Exchange.

Before release the three apprentices and their guarantors were given a strict caution against the former re-engaging in subversive activities.

Lan Chung-ziang (藍仲祥), who was arrested at Passage 559-B, No.11 Rue Lafayette on the night of January 4th and handed over to Special Branch was on the instructions of D.C. (Special Branch) returned to the Political Section, French Police on the morning of January 7th from where he was subsequently released.

The Han Wen Press, Lane 228, No.15 Shantung Road, which was ordered to cease operations on November 30th was on January 4th authorized to re-open by D.C. (Special Branch) after suitable guarantees had been supplied by Mr. Sung Kwang-dee (孫光第), Manager of the Sun Sun Press (生生美術公司), 105 Lloyd Road, against the former concern again engaging in the printing or preparation of subversive literature.

The Dah Foong Type-Setting Works, Lane 537, No.6 Wuting Road, the operation of which was suspended on December 6th were permitted to re-open by D.C. (Special Branch) on January 6th. Suitable guarantees against this concern re-engaging in the preparation of subversive literature were entered into by Mr. Wei Tse-hung (韋志宏), master of the Tse Zung (志宗) Rice Shop, Lane 779, No.53 Chengtu Road.

The guarantee bonds for the Han Wen Press and Dah Foong Works are attached.

Subject: Secret National Salvation Publications - Arrest and Seizure - Further Report

Made by D.S.I. MacAdie Forwarded by G. Crawford D.C.

The 16th accused Pan Kwoh Tseng Yih (潘郭真一) and the 18th accused Sung Yu (沈 諱) were returned on the instructions of D.C. (Special Branch) to the Political Section, French Police at 6 p.m., January 6th and were released same evening. In connection with the 17th accused Lan Chung Ziang (藍仲祥), who is a teacher in the Chung Hwa Girls' Middle School, Rue Lafayette, although he admits that he was a close friend of the wanted man Pan Ts Ming and allowed Pan the use of his desk, he denies being concerned with the production of the magazines "Unity" etc. Lan Chung Ziang is not identified by Tsai Lan or Bang Yue Zung, the 3rd accused as being connected with the movement while his name does not appear on any of the documents seized. In the absence of evidence of any subversive activities on the part of Lan Chung Ziang, his release would appear advisable.

With reference to Pan Ts Ming, evidence has been secured that this man absconded during the day of January 4, his home being raided that evening. By some means or other he apparently learned of the arrest of Tsai Lan and has gone into hiding.

A list of the literature seized in the recent raids is in course of preparation and will be forwarded as soon as possible.

Subject Secret national salvation and anti-Japanese publications - further arrests and seizures.

Made by D.S.I. MacAdie Forwarded by C. Crawford. D.D.

Investigation of Tsai Lan(蔡磊)the 15th accused and not the 17th accused as erroneously described in the report on this subject dated January 4th, revealed that this man was acting under the instructions of one Pan Ts Ming(潘子明) alias Pan Fang(潘芳). Pan Ts Ming was stated by Tsai Lan to be residing at Lane 559B (Van Foh Fang), House 11 Rue Lafayette.

This address was raided at 11 p.m. January 4th by D.S.I. MacAdie, D.S.I. Kao Yen Ken and C.D.S. 156 Zah Pao-ying(石宝瑛), assisted by Detective Rossi of the French Police. Pan Ts Ming was absent but a search of his room revealed a quantity of anti-Japanese, national salvation and communistic literature. A female named Pan Kach Tseng-yih(潘郭真一), age 30, native of Hupeh, claiming to be the wife of Pan Ts Ming was present in the room and alleged that her husband had left for Anhwei two days before. This statement was refuted, however, by Tsai Lan who visited Pan at his house on January 3rd.

A number of similar documents and drafts of an anti-Japanese nature as well as chops of Pan Ts Ming were found in the room of Lan Chung Ziang(蓝仲祥), age 31, native of Shensi, the chief tenant of the premises, and a teacher at the Chung Hwa Girls' Middle School, Rue Lafayette.

Similar literature was found in a room occupied by one Sung Yu(沈裕), alias Sung Yu-ta(沈裕之), a female, age 20, native of Peiping, a teacher in the Jui Ts (孝智) Primary School, Rue Grouchy.

A brief examination of the seizures leads to the belief that this address which houses a body known as the Cultural Material Supply Association(文化資料供應社) is the receiving office for manuscripts written by leftist and national salvation elements for inclusion in the various secret publications. There being good reason to suppose that Lan Chung Ziang and the two females collaborated with Pan Ts Ming in the work of editing and selecting suitable articles for the publications, it was decided to request the French Police for their detention pending enquiries.

The three arrested persons were handed over together with the seizures to Special Branch at 3 p.m. January 5th.

They are at present being held pending instructions as to their disposal, the French Police having requested their return should their release be contemplated.

Tsai Lan also led Special Branch detectives to an address at Lane 225 (Chun Yien Bi Dz alleyway) House 30, Rue Pere Robert where he had left a box containing documents with his cousin named Tsai Ying(蔡瑛), alias Tsai Hsin-yeu(蔡梓友). The box which contained drafts etc., connected with the secret publications was seized and is being examined . A visit was also paid to the 1st Refugee Camp of the International Relief Committee on Rue Massenet where Tsai Lan had entrusted other documents with a Miss Woo Tai Tang(吳水清), a Subject Secret National Salvation and Leftist publications Unity, etc. - arrest of Tsai Lan, responsible propaganda agent.

Made by D.S.I. MacAdie Forwarded by C. Crawford. D.C.

Tsai Lan (蔡磊) alias Li Ts Ming (李子民), age 26, native of Canton, who was implicated by the 3rd and 4th accused in the case which forms the subject of this file, as being the responsible person behind the secret type setting base at Lane 587, No.7 Medhurst Road, from whom the drafts of the objectionable publications, Unity, etc. emanated and by whom the distribution of these periodicals was conducted, was as a result of careful enquiries traced to his home in Room No.4 of a Russian Boarding House, Lane 697, No.5 Avenue Joffre.

This address was raided by D.S.I. MacAdie, D.S.I. Kao Yen-ken and C.D.S.156 (Special Branch) assisted by D.S.I. Perrie of the Political Section, French Police, at 7.30 a.m. January 4 and the wanted man was taken into custody therein.

A quantity of manuscripts and literature believed to be chiefly of a national salvation nature was seized and is at present under examination.

Tsai Lan was handed over to Special Branch at 10 a.m. same day, for enquiries, on the understanding that should his expulsion from Shanghai be later deemed desirable, this be carried out by the French Police owing to his being a resident of the Concession.

Tsai Lan who now becomes the 17th accused in this case is being carefully interrogated with a view to tracing the organization at the back of the propaganda matter in question.

He will be detained in Central Station.

Subject Printing and Type-Setting Bases for the periodicals, "Unity," "Emancipation," "War Voice," and "Women" - further raids on printing works.

Made by D.S.I. MacAdie Forwarded by C. Crawford D.C.

In connection with the two remaining printing and type-setting works formerly engaged in printing or making matrices for the various secret publications of an objectionable nature as mentioned in the previous report on this subject dated December 16th, police action was taken against them on December 23rd on the instructions of D.C. (Special Branch).

At 10 a.m. the Lien Ts (利志) Type-Setting Works, Lane 140, House 15 Love Lane was visited and all work ordered to cease. The responsible persons were taken into custody. They are :-

(10th accused): Chu Han Sung(朱志生), aged 37, a native of Shanghai, married, Manager & Owner of the Lien Ts Type-Setting Works. Living at the said address.

(11th accused): Liu Dong Hui(劉全煥), aged 22, a native of Ningpo, married, broker of the Lien Ts Type-Setting Works. Living at the said address.

A search of the premises revealed a quantity of anti-Japanese books, manuscript and matrices, a description of which is given in the attached list. The source of this literature is under investigation.

At 11 a.m. the Shing Nyih Press(勝業), Lane 177, House 42 Chungking Road was similarly ordered to cease operations and the responsible persons were taken into custody. They are :-

(12th accused): Loh Ching Yoong(陸金榮), aged 51, a native of Kashan, Chekiang, married. Manager of the Shing Nyih Press. Living at the said address.

(13th accused): Loh Foh Sung(陸福生), aged 30, a native of Kashan, Chekiang, married, Assistant Manager of the Shing Nyih Press. Living in the Press. Son of Loh Ching Yoong.

Nothing was found on the premises but the manager was unable to produce his account books for the year 1938, having only a set of books dated from August 1938 which bore every evidence of their having been written up at a very recent date. The manager admitted that news of the raid on the Han Wen Press on November 30th had come to his notice and it is evident that he either concealed or destroyed the old books which contained records of his transactions with the 3rd and 4th accused. Investigations into this matter will be made in due course.

The four arrested persons are at present being detained in Chengtu Road Station.

Arrangements have been made by P.A. to D.C. (Special Branch) with the Inspector in charge of Chengtu Road Station for the policing of the two concerns with a view to ensuring that work is not resumed.

With reference to the Sung Weh (生活) Bookstore, c/o Yuan Tung (遠東) Bookstore, 378 Foochow Road which ordered a quantity of rabidly anti-Japanese cartoons and songs from the Han Wen Press, discreet enquiries ascertained that the Yuan Tung Bookstore is entirely responsible for all Shanghai affairs of the Sung Weh Bookstore which is stated to be now located at Queens Road Hongkong.

Accordingly Wong Chien Bing(黃曉萍), the Manager of the Yuan Tung Bookstore was called to the Special Branch on the afternoon of December 23rd. He admitted that the Yuan Tung Bookstore were agents for the Sung Weh Bookstore but denied all knowledge of the order for anti-Japanese literature. A visit was then paid with the Manager to the Bookstore where various account books, stock cards and chops of the Sung Weh Bookstore were found, clearly demonstrating the fact that the Yuan Tung and Sung Weh Bookstores were one and the same. The search also revealed a quantity of rabidly anti-Japanese literature including "Folk songs & plays" and a booklet, "September 18th" which is described in the attached list. Enquiries at the store also revealed that one Wo Zang Kwei (吳藏貴) who handled the Sung Weh Bookstore business with the Han Wen Press was an assistant of the Yuan Tung Bookstore. This man has not put in an appearance at the bookstore since the raid on the Han Wen Press.

Wong Chien Bing, the Manager of the Yuan Tung Bookstore is being detained at Central Station and becomes the 14th accused. Investigations into the source and place of disposal of the anti-Japanese literature ordered by the Sung Weh Bookstore is being investigated.

December 23,1938.

To the Special Branch, S.M.P.

My client, Mr. Zee Sing Zu(徐[illegible]), proprietor of the Da Foong Type Manufacturing Co., states that one of his workers named Wong Ching Kung was arrested by Special Branch detectives on December 1 and the company was ordered to suspend work on the following day, Dec. 2. Policemen are watching the premises daily. It is not known what offence Wong Ching Kung has committed, but anyhow this concerns Wong himself and has nothing to do with my client's company, which has suffered a great loss through suspension of work. A letter was forwarded sometime ago requesting permission to re-open the shop but no reply has been received. Accordingly he requests me to write to you again with a view to permitting him to resume business as soon as possible in order to avoid further losses.

Subject Printing and Type-setting Bases for the periodicals "Unity", "Emancipation", "War Voice" and "Women", Arrests and Raids - Summary

Made by D.S.I. Mac Adie Forwarded by C. Crawford D.I.

Interrogation of the eight accused now in custody in connection with this case has now been completed. As a result of the arrest of Ghui Pah-lee (倪 白 利), the 9th accused, it was discovered that one Tsai Lan (蔡 嵐) alias Li Yah-yuin (李 雅 雲), a teacher in the 1st Refugee Camp of the International Relief Committee, Rue Massenet and a staff member of the Moral Training Committee was the responsible figure behind the secret type setting base at Medhurst Road. Enquiries at the camp ascertained that since the raid he had absented himself on sick leave and further interrogation of the prisoners ascertained that the 9th accused had witnessed the arrest of the 3rd accused on December 1st at the Han Wen Press and had immediately left to warn Tsai Lan. The 9th accused also attempted to warn the employees of the type setting base to abscond and remove the types but in this he was too late. Tsai Lan's residence is not known to the accused but careful enquiries are being continued in an effort to effect his arrest. Not only did the drafts of the various objectionable secret publications emanate from him but he is also stated to have financed the purchase of the type and fittings of the base and to have made a regular monthly allowance to the accused. The length of time which this secret base operated undisturbed and unsuspected i.e. from May to December is evidence of the success of the scheme. Type setting is the longest operation in printing and necessitates the presence of the manuscripts and documents on the premises for a considerable period. Printing shops due to increased Police vigilance have undoubtedly stiffened their attitude towards the acceptance of political matter for printing but with the present scheme the type blocks only were brought to the press, the copies could be run off in an hour and the whole trace removed in a very short space of time thus reducing the risks run by the printing shops to a minimum.

The organization of what may be termed the propaganda department of the local National Salvation and leftist organizations is summarised hereunder :

Propaganda Matter handled

"Emancipation " (解 放),
a semi-monthly periodical of a purely communistic nature having strong anti-Japanese tendency.

"Unity" (团 结), a weekly periodical of an anti-Japanese and national salvation nature, the mouth-piece of local national salvation elements.

"War Voice" (战 声),
a three-day periodical of an anti-Japanese and national salvation nature, bearing on the war situation.

"Women" (妇 女),
a semi-monthly periodical of an anti-Japanese and national salvation nature, the mouth-piece of the local women national salvation circles.

"Students' Livelihood" (学 生 生 活),
a semi-monthly periodical of an anti-Japanese and national salvation nature, the mouth-piece of the secret "Students' Federation" (for one issue only in August, 1938).

(4) Shing Nyi (兴 業) Press, Lane 177, 42 Chungking Road :

Responsible for the printing of "Unity" "Women" and "Emancipation" from May 1938 up to the present.

Police Action : No police action has been taken pending instructions.

Apart from the work performed by the Han Wen Press on behalf of the National Salvation and Leftist organizations, four other kinds of anti-Japanese and National Salvation literature seized at the time of the raid on the Press, have been investigated and the following concerns found to be responsible :-

Literary Society of the Shanghai University, 209 Yuen Ming Yuen Road

Responsible for the publication of the periodical "Woo Kiang", containing articles of a national salvation nature.

The Society has already appealed to the Special Branch for return of the drafts seized on the grounds that the periodical was for private circulation among Shanghai University students only. The representative was informed that this could not be done at the present time. No further action has been taken.

"Mei Ling Society" - Address unknown

Ordered the printing of the set of regulations of the "Mei Ling Society", a national salvation organization.

The Society cannot be located.

SHANGHAI MUNICIPAL POLICE.

REPORT OF POLICE INVESTIGATIONS.

The following is the statement of Wong Chi-gee (王企岐) (1st accused) native of Shaoshing taken by me D.S.I. MacAdie D.S.I. Kao Yen-ken at Special Branch on the 13/12/38 and interpreted by

My name is Wong Chi-gee. I am 41 years of age, a native of Shaoshing, and married. I reside at 59, Yung Chih Li (永吉里), Elgin Road, off North Kiangse Road. I am the Sales Manager of the Han Wen Press, Lane 228, 15 Shantung Road.

This press was responsible for the printing of the "War Voice" from August up to the date on which the Municipal Police raided the Press for the periodical. The work was introduced to me by Wong Kyung-kung (4th accused). Wong was an apprentice and I was an accountant in the Mei Shen (美成) Press, Yu Ching Li, corner of East Seward Road and Singkeepang Road, in 1931. The set-up types of the "War Voice" were as a rule sent to my press by Bang Yuen Shen (3rd accused) and the printed copies were taken away by persons sent by Bang who are unknown to me. The cost of the printing was collected by Wong Kyung-kung (4th accused) from Bang (3rd accused) and sent to me. Wong got a commission of $0.30 out of a total price of $1.60 per issue.

This press also printed the "July 7th Anniversary Special Issue" of the Communistic periodical "Emancipation." As the printing proved unsatisfactory, Bang discontinued to send further issues to us for printing. I deny having printed two issues of "Emancipation" and one issue of "Unity" as claimed by Bang Yuen-shen (3rd accused).

The set-up types for the "Anti-Japanese Songs" which were seized from the press by the Municipal Police on November 30, were made by us, preparatory to the making of paper matrices on behalf of the Sung Weh (Livelihood) Bookstore (now closed in Shanghai) with a communication address in the Yuan Toong Bookstore, Foochow Road. One Hsia Chang-kwei (夏長貴) of the Sung Weh Bookstore handed the order to us. We were only requested to make the matrices; I do not know where the book "Anti-Japanese Songs" was to be printed.

As to the other three kinds of literature of an anti-Japanese and national salvation nature which were seized by the Municipal Police, I have to state that the work was introduced by brokers in the printing trade.

Sung Pah-an (沈百安), Loo Chieu-sung (羅秋生) (2nd accused), and myself are shareholders in operating the Han Wen Press.

My name is Loo Chieu-sung. I am 45 years of age, a native of Shanghai and married. I reside at 6 Shih Sing Li (四馨里), Route Pere Robert. I am the Works Manager of the Han Wen Press, Lane 228, 15 Shantung Road. I am one of the three shareholders of this press, the other two being Wong Chi-gee (1st accused) and Sung Pah-an.

The anti-Japanese and national salvation literature and blocks seized by the Municipal Police from the press were received by Wong Chi-gee and various brokers in the trade.

Although I was aware that such literature was undesirable I offered no objection to its being printed as the other business was not sufficient to maintain the press.

I do not know who ordered the printing and the making of matrices in this case.

The following is the statement of Bang Yuen-shen (3rd accused) native of Shaoshing taken by me D.S.I. MacAdie D.S.I. Kao Yen-ken at Headquarters on the December 8, 1938 and interpreted by

My name is Bang Yuen-shen (彭元成), alias Bang Jen-sung (彭仁生), alias Chang Shen-kao (張成高). I am 32 years of age, a native of Shaoshing, and married. I am a type-setter by profession and reside at Lane 587, 7 Medhurst Road. The kitchen room of this address is used by me and Ghui Pah-li (瞿伯礼) (9th accused) as a secret type-setting base for the communistic and anti-Japanese publications "Unity", " War Voice", "Emancipation" and "Women".

Prior to April, 1938, I was employed in the Tai Ping Yang Printing Press, Lane 161, 11 Burkill Road, as a type-setter and was discharged in March following a raid on the press by the Municipal Police for anti-Japanese literature.

In April, 1938, Tsai Lan (蔡磊), alias Li Yah-yuin (李雅雲), who ordered the printing of the "Unity" from the Tai Ping Yang Press, approached me and Ghui and suggested the establishment of a secret type-setting base for the above-mentioned four secret publications. He gave us $200 for the purchase of types and in May, we rented the kitchen room of Lane 587, 7 Medhurst Road, as the works. The staff consisted of six persons, namely, Ghui and I as type-setters, Wang Dzu-chi (王如寄)(5th accused), Fang Yu-keng (方餘耕)(6th accused) and Tsang Yung-tsing (張永心) (8th accused) as apprentices, and my wife Bang Chang Ds (彭張氏) as the cook. For our support, Tsai Lan paid $45.00 per mensem, of which sum, $36 was set aside for food and the remaining 9 for the miscellaneous expenses.

I was in charge of the works, while Ghui (9th accused) served as a communication agent between the works and Tsai Lan. I was also responsible for the taking of the set up types to the Han Wen Printing Press, Lane 228, 15 Shantung Road, for printing. The Han Wen Printing Press has undertaken the printing since May, 1938. When printed, the publications were removed from the Han Wen Press by agents of Tsai Lan. The printing was arranged by Wong kyêng-keng (王金根)(4th accused), worker in the Dah Foong (大豐) Press, Lane 537, 6 Wuting Road, with Wong Chi-gee (1st accused), Manager of the Sales Department of the Han Wen Press.

As to the paper matrices which were seized by the Municipal Police at Lane 587, 7 Medhurst Road, I have to state that they were made at the Dah Foong Press, Lane 537, 6 Wuting Road, at the rate of $0.36 a copy.

I know that Tsai Lan is a teacher in the 1st Refugee Camp of the International Relief Committee, Rue Massanet. Tsai Lan's activities and whereabouts have been kept strictly secret from us. I am not clear as to whether he belongs to the Chinese Communist Party or the "National Salvation Association". Besides Tsai Lan, one Pan Ta-ming (潘大明) came to proof read the "Unity" and "Women", one Pao Ching-yoong (傅生榮) to read the proof of "War Voice" and one Yu Ying-sung (余隆生) to see the "Emancipation" for the final time. Their identity is unknown to me.

My name is Bang Yuen-shen alias Bang Jen-sung(彭仁生), alias Chang Shen-kao(張成高). I am 32 years of age, a native of Shaoshing, and married. The following is my further statements:-

The types of all the four periodicals entitled "Unity", "Emancipation", "War Voice" and Women", were set up at the Medhurst Road base, but the printing was done by the following two firms:-

a) Han Wen Press, Lane 228, 15 Shantung Road.
Responsible for the printing of the "War Voice" from July, 1938 up to the present.
Printed one issue of the "Unity" and two issues of the "Emancipation" in July.

b) Shing Nyi Press(兴業), Lane 177, 42 Chungking Rd.
Responsible for the printing of the "Unity", "Women" and the "Emancipation" from May, 1938, up to the present.

With regard to the making of matrices for the "Women", "Emancipation" and "Unity", I have to state that it was done by the Dah Foong Type-setting Works(大 丰), Lane 587, 6 Wuting Road, in May, June, July and August, 1938. Then we secured the services of the Lien Ts (利 丘) Type-setting Works, Love Lane, behind the Bank of China Building, which charged $0.32 for each matrix instead of $0.36 as charged by the Dah Foong, and therefore we entrusted the work with the new firm. This Lien Ts Works has been responsible for the making of matrices since the beginning of September, 1938.

native of Kiangwan taken by me D.S.I. MacAdie ~~D.S.I. Kao Yen Kung~~, at Police Hqrs. on the Dec.9, 1938. and interpreted by

My name is Wong Kyung-kung. I am 26 years of age, a native of Kiangwan, and married. I am a matrix maker in the employ of the Dah Foong (大豐) Type-setting Works, sponsored by the Commercial Press, Lane 537, 6 Wuting Road. I reside in a country house No. 41 Siao Woo Ka Zah(小胡家宅), Jessfield Road, at the rear of St. John's University, O.O.L.

In May, 1938, while I was residing at 12 Ching Wei Li (駿蔚里), opposite Lane 587, 7 Medhurst Road, I made acquaintance with Bang Yuen-shen(彭元成)(3rd accused). He asked me to introduce some printing firm to him. The type-setting base at Lane 587, 7 Medhurst Road, which was operated by Bang, did not carry out any business other than for the following secret publications:-

War Voice (戰声),
Unity (團結),
Emancipation(解放),
Women (婦女).

Thereupon I went to see Wong Chi-gee (1st accused), Manager of the Printing Department of the Han Wen Press. Wong became known to me while he was serving as the accountant and I as an apprentice in the Mei Shen (美成) Press, Yu Ching Li(餘庆里), corner of East Seward Road and Singkaapang Road, in 1931. Wong accepted the business. Besides introducing the business of printing, I have nothing to do with the secret publications.

My name is Fang Yu-ken. I am seventeen years of age, a native of Ningpo and single. I am a type-setter by profession. I reside at Lane 587, 7 Medhurst Road.

Prior to the raid made by the Municipal Police on the Tai Ping Yang Press, Burkill Road, on March 23, for anti-Japanese literature, I was employed in the Tai Ping Yang Press as an apprentice. When Bang Yuen-shen (3rd accused) established the type-setting works at Lane 587, 7 Medhurst Road, in May, 1938, I, being then unemployed, went to work in this works. This works has no name and carries out no business other than for the periodicals :-

"Unity" "War Voice"
"Emancipation" "Women."

Bang Yuen-shen (3rd accused) and Ghui Pah-lee (9th accused) are in charge of the works. Ghui acted as the communication agent between the works and one Tsai, who supplied money for the upkeep of the works.

I was the person responsible for the dismantling of set-up types when finished with and the placing of the types in their original places.

I know that the printing of the periodicals was undertaken by the Han Wen Press, Shantung Road and the making of matrices was done by the Dah Foong Type-setting Works, Wuting Road previously and the Lien Ts Type-setting Works, Love Lane, behind the Bank of China Building. About a month ago, I was sent by Bang to send set-up types to the Lien Ts Type-setting Works for making matrices. I have been there once only.

My name is Tsang Vung Tsing. I am 20 years of age, a native of Pootung and single. I am a type-setter by profession. I reside at Lane 587, 7 Medhurst Road.

I was an apprentice in the Tai Ping Yang Press, Burkill Road, but was discharged owing to lack of business following a raid made by the Municipal Police on the press for anti-Japanese literature. In April, 1938, I went back to my native home at Pootung owing to the death of my mother. I returned to Shanghai in July, 1938 and joined the secret type-setting base operated by Bang Yuen-shen (3rd accused) at Lane 587, 7 Medhurst Road. This base sets up types for the following periodicals only:-
"War Voice", "Unity", "Emancipation", "Women."
In August, 1938, we set up types for the "Students' Livelihood" for one issue only.

At the time of raid on the Medhurst base on December 1, I was out to see a relative Chang Moh-ling (張木林), at the Chang Shen Shing (張順興) Rice Shop, Weihaiwei Road, off Chengtu Road. When I returned to the base at 6 p.m., I met the wife of Bang (3rd accused) in the alleyway. She asked me to look for Ghui Pah-lee (9th accused) in the French Concession. $36.00 was set aside for food, while the remaining $9.00 was used to defray miscellaneous expenses.

I know that Tsai Lan is a member of the Chinese Communist Party, but I have no knowledge of what position he is holding. He serves as a teacher in the junior middle school class and concurrently a staff member of the Moral Training Department of the First Refugee Camp of the International Relief Committee, Rue Massanet, south of Rue Lafayette. Tsai Lan is short, with a thin dark face, wearing spectacles, hair combed backward, a little bald at the back, wearing long gown but foreign style trousers, occasionally dressed in foreign style and speaking Cantonese dialect.

The drafts of these periodicals are as a rule sent to the Medhurst Road type-setting base by Tsai Lan. Shanghai dialect, a proof-reader by profession, medium size, thin, short hair combed backward, for the communistic periodical "Emancipation." The types, when set up and proof-read, are then taken to the Han Wen Printing Press, Lane 228, 15 Shantung Road, for printing. The printing was arranged through Wong Kyung-kung (王金根) (4th accused), with Wong Chi-gee (王企岐) (1st accused), Manager of the Printing Department of the Han Wen Printing Press and it was started in May, 1938, and continued up to the present. I understand that the periodicals when printed were taken away by agents of Tsai Lan.

I do not know the whereabouts of Tsai Lan. At 5.30 p.m., December 1, when I arrived in the vicinity of the Medhurst Road base, I learned of the raid by the Municipal Police on the base at 4 p.m., I at once proceeded to the 1st Refugee Camp of the International Relief Committee, Rue Massanet, and reported the matter to Tsai Lan. Tsai Lan instructed me to pass that night in the refugee camp and leave it at 6 a.m., December 2. He also told me that he would write a letter introducing me to stay in the 2nd Refugee Camp at Siccawei and further give me $5.00 to obtain which he instructed me to be present at the entrance to the French Park on Rue Massanet at 6.30 p.m., December 2. I did so and at 6.30 p.m. December 2 instead of seeing Tsai Lan, I saw Miss Woo, believed to be a sweetheart of Tsai Lan, who is a student in the 1st Refugee Camp on Rue Massanet and who is staying in the camp. Miss Woo on behalf of Tsai Lan gave me $5 and the said letter of introduction.

As the 2nd Refugee Camp does not supply bedding, and I learned from the vicinity of my residence, 907 Avenue Joffre, that it had been searched by the Police, I went to live in the Hung Zang (鴻翔) Ladies Tailor Shop, Avenue Joffre opposite the Paris Theatre on December 2 and 3. On the morning of December 4, as the management of the Hung Zang Shop refused to allow me to live on the premises, I went to 907 Avenue Joffre with a view to taking my bedding. I met the family of Ye Bing-ling (7th accused), who asked me to go to Room 411, Tung Fang Hotel, Chekiang Road, where one Kung, the step-father of Ye Bing-ling, telephoned to the Police and I was arrested at 2.45 p.m.

Translation of Petition from Han Wen Printing Company.

The Han Wen Printing Co. Ltd has two departments; the Business Department which manufactures and sells lead types, and the Printing Department which undertakes the printing of books, etc. The Company has carried on business for many years, has always been law-abiding and has never committed any offence, the promoting of its business is the only object. In March last year, in consequence of difficulty of control and in order to increase the efficiency of the printing department, the whole of this department was rented to Messrs. Wong and Loo who from that time have been jointly responsible for all financial and business matters connected with it. The name of the company was not changed but two characters "Yah Kee" were added to the original name. On November 30 this year, the Yah Kee Printing Department was searched by the Special Branch of the Municipal Police for having accepted certain undesirable printing jobs, and the two men Wong and Loo who were responsible for this department were taken into custody by the Police. Both the Business and Printing Departments were ordered to be closed. After explanation, the Police allowed the Business Department to carry on but the Printing Department is still closed. Although Wong and Loo are responsible for the Printing Department, the property of this department belongs to the Han Wen Company. Moreover the printing work is held up and customers have complained to the Company for delays in printing their articles. Two or three hundred workers are idle as a result of the closure. For these reasons, it is requested that the Printing Department be permitted to resume business on furnishing the necessary guarantee or under the supervision of an officer of the Special Branch.

Subject Arrests and seizure of National Salvation Propaganda at 587/7 Medhurst Road and the Hwan Wen Press - further report

Made by D.S.I. MacAdie Forwarded by C. Crawford D.C.

Ghui Pah-lee (倪百利), the wanted communication agent whose arrest was sought at 907 Avenue Joffre, was taken into custody by D.S.I. Kao Yen-ken at 2.45 p.m., December 4 in Room 411 of the Toong Fang Hotel, 245 Chekiang Road. The information leading to his arrest was supplied by the family of the 7th accused Ya Bing Ling (葉平林), foreman tailor who was arrested following his refusal to divulge information regarding Ghui Pah-lee.

On the afternoon of the same day, Ya Bing Ling was released on the instruction of D.C. (Special Branch) and was handed into the care of his step father named Keng Ts-jing (耿子琴) residing 105 Rue Baron Gros.

Interrogation of Ghui Pah-lee age 30, native of Pootung who now becomes the 9th accused is in progress in an endeavour to trace the source of the propaganda matter in question.

Results obtained will form the subject of a further report.

The 9th accused is being detained at Gordon Road Station.

Subject Seizures of National Salvation propaganda - Raid on secret type setting base of National Salvation Association - further to report on raid on Han Wen Press.

Made by D.S.I. MacAdie Forwarded by C. Crawford A. S.I.

The 1st accused Wong Chi-Gee (王企岐) and the 2nd accused Loo Chieu-sung (盧秋生), Printing Manager and Works Manager respectively of the Han Wen Press, Lane 228, House 15 Shantung Road have been detained in Central Station.

As a result of observation kept by the staff on the Press on the instructions of Special Branch, a male Chinese named Bang Yuen Shan(彭元成) alias Chang Shen Kao (張成高), age 32, native of Shaoshing was taken into custody at 3 p.m. December 1st at the Press by C.D.S. 156 (Special Branch). This person, the 3rd accused, brought the set up type blocks of the periodical "War Voice" to the Press for printing.

Questioned, the 3rd accused stated that he was acting on behalf of one Wong Kyung Kung(王金根), a worker of the Dahfoong Press, Lane 537, No. 6 Wuting Road. At 3.30 p.m. same day, D.S.I. MacAdie, D.S.I. Kao Yen Ken and C.D.S. 156 (Special Branch) raided the latter address and took into custody Wong Kyung Kung, the 4th accused, age 26, native of Kiangwan. The 3rd and 4th accused then led detectives to Lane 587 House 7 Medhurst Road where in the back kitchen was found a type setting plant.

As a result of thorough questioning the 3rd accused admitted that he was in charge of this plant assisted by three type setters and apprentices named Wong Dau Chi(王如芝) Fang Yu Ken(方徐根) and Tsang Vung Tsing(張文心), two of these namely, the first and second named, age 18, native of Shanghai, and age 17, native of Ningpo, the 5th and 6th accused respectively, were found on the premises and were also detained. A search of the premises revealed 48 matrices for the publication "Emancipation", a communistic periodical.

The 3rd accused further stated that the drafts of these publications were brought over to the plant by one named Ghui Pah Ling (瞿伯林) residing in the French Concession. Led by the 3rd and 6th accused, detectives proceeded to Lokawei Station, leaving C.D.S.156 on the premises. D.S. Vittorio of the Political Section of the French Police rendered assistance and a visit was paid at 5 p.m. to No. 907 Avenue Joffre, a Russian Tailor shop, in the workshop of which Ghui was said to sleep. Ye Bing Ling (葉平林), foreman Chinese tailor, was questioned but denied the existence of the wanted man Ghui. As Ye Bing Ling was stated by the accused to be the wanted man's uncle, he was taken to Lokawei Station for further enquiries. At the station he admitted that Ghui did sleep on the premises at night and further that his younger brother named Ghui Taung Nyi (瞿 直義), unknown to the other accused was a tailor employed in the workshop. Ghui returned to the shop every night after dinner and left each morning. Meanwhile drafts, literature etc., sent to the shop in the daytime were received by his brother Ghui Taung Nyi on Ghui's behalf.

On return to the shop it was found that the brother had taken advantage of the refusal of Ye Bing Ling to speak on the first arrival of detectives, to abscond. It was therefore decided to hold Ye Bing Ling as being the only person acquainted with the delivery of documents to the communication address, especially after a search of the workshop revealed two matrices, one for the publication of "Unity", a secret national salvation publication, the source of which has long been sought by Special Branch, and the other for a national salvation periodical, "Women" (婦女). Ye Bing Ling, age 41, native of Pootung, therefore becomes the 7th accused.

On the second visit to the shop the type setter named Tsang Vung Taing, absent at the time of the raid on the Medhurst Road base, was discovered at the rear entrance of the shop. This man had learned of the Medhurst Road raid and had come to warn Ghui. The type setter, age 20, native of Pootung, was also taken into custody and becomes the 8th accused.

The 7th and 8th accused were handed over to D.S.I. MacAdie by the French Police at 7.20 p.m. together with the matrices seized.

The 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th accused have all been detained at Gordon Road Station on the instructions of D.C. (Special Branch).

According to preliminary investigations the base was established in Medhurst Road in July this year with funds supplied by the national salvation association and/or the Communist Party. Type racks were built and types to the value of $287 was purchased by the 3rd accused and Ghui Pah Ling. The plant was solely devoted to the setting up secret national salvation and communistic publications, in which work, the 3rd, 4th, 5th and 8th accused and also Ghui Pah Ling assisted. The printing of the type blocks was done by the Han Wen Press, while the making of matrices of the publication by the Dah Foong Press, Lane 587/6 Wuting Road. The four workers referred to were all formerly employed in the Tai Bing Yang Printing Press, Lane 161, No. 16 Burkill Road, which was raided on March 23 by Special Branch for printing the publication "Unity". Together with Ghui, they received a monthly allowance of $45 between them while their rent was paid by the political association for which they were working. All four accused resided on the premises.

Enquiries are continuing and observation is being maintained at both addresses with a view to arresting the communication agent Ghui Pah Ling or his brother Ghui Tsung Nyi.

Attached are lists of seizures made.

Subject Raid on the Han Wen Printing Press, Lane 228, House 15 Shantung Road - Seizure of "War Voice" and other anti-Japanese and National Salvation literature

Made by D.S.I. Mac Adie Forwarded by C. Crawford, D.S.I.

At 3.15 p.m., November 30, a party of Police consisting of D.S.I. Guess and C.D.S.287 (Central) and D.S.I. MacAdie, D.S. Hide, D.S.I. Kao Yen-ken, C.D.S.156 and C.D.C.357 (Special Branch), acting on information obtained by Special Branch raided the Han Wen (漢文) Printing Press, Lane 228, House 15 Shantung Road.

The following was seized :-

(1) Set up type blocks for a secret National Salvation three day periodical "War Voice" issue No.62 dated November 30, 1938.

(2) Periodical entitled "Woo Kiang" (滬江), issue No.6, dated November 15, 1938, a National Salvation paper published by the Literary Society of the Shanghai University. One copy of paper and manuscripts for the next issue of the paper.

(3) Draft and set-up type blocks for the Regulations of a "Mei Ling (梅林社) Society", a National Salvation organization.

(4) Draft and proof of a letter to students in the U.S.A. of an Anti-Japanese nature. Issued by the Union of Christian Students.

(5) Set-up type block and drafts of broadsheets containing anti-Japanese cartoons and rabidly anti-Japanese songs.

The General Manager of the press named Sung Peh-an (孫伯安) was absent at the time of the raid but the Printing Department Manager named Wong Chi Gee (王吉吳), age 41, native of Shaoshing, and the Works Manager named Loo Chieu-sung (盧秋生), age 45, native of Shanghai were taken into custody.

Regarding the first seizure, "War Voice" printing had not commenced and according to the staff the blocks were set up outside the press and sent in for printing by a man named Wong Kying-keng (王金根), a broker of the Dah Foong (大豐) Press, Lane 537, No.6 Wuting Road. 1,000 copies were ordered.

1,000 copies of the periodical "Woo Kiang" in the second seizure had already been printed and taken away by the customer.

The "Mei Ling Society" Regulations had not yet been printed but 500 copies had been ordered by a broker of the Zung Dah (順大) Printing Press, Tsang Ka Zah Road.

1,500 copies of the fourth seizure were ordered by one Ting Kuh-shuen (丁克勳) of the Students' Department, Chinese Y.M.C.A., 123 Boulevard de Montigny. They had not as yet been printed.

The 5th seizure was ordered by the Sung Weh (生活) Bookstore now located in the Yuan Toong (遠東) Bookstore, Foochow Road. From the blocks it was intended to make matrices but the work had only reached the proof stage. The matrices on completion were to be sent to the Sung Weh Bookstore.

On the instructions of D.C. (Special Branch), all work at the Printing Press ceased at 5 p.m., while the sales office was ordered not to re-open on Date December 1, 1938.

Subject Raid on the Han Wen Printing Press, Lane 228, house 15 Shantung Road - Seizure of "War Voice" and other anti-Japanese and National Salvation literature.

Made by D.S. Hide Forwarded by C. Crawford D.C.

At 4 p.m. on the December 1st, 1938, a member of the Special Branch interviewed Mr. T. Hoggarth, Manager of Burroughs Wellcome & Co., 60 Hongkong Road, who, according to a report received, desired to furnish information relevant to this case.

Mr. Hoggarth explained that Burroughs Wellcome and Co. have a verbal contract with the Han Wen Press of 228/15 Shantung Road for the printing of Medical Diaries for 1939 to the value of $2416.00 to be delivered not later than December 10th 1938.

The diaries are intended for general distribution in the Far East and in the event of delayed delivery, will be rendered useless.

The Company has a further verbal contract for the printing of Wellcome's Materia Therapeutica to the value of $3570.00, but in respect of this order a delay of a few weeks in delivery is not of great import.

Mr. Hoggarth further stated that on the afternoon of December 1st, 1938, one Tsung Bah Oen(孫伯安), General-Manager of the Han Wen Press had called on him to explain that the Press had been closed by the Police and that it appears unlikely that delivery of the diaries could be effected on time.

Mr. Hoggarth stated that he thoroughly appreciated the necessity of the adoption of appropriate measures, but would be glad of information regarding the likelihood of the Han Wen Press being permitted to resume operations in time to complete the Diaries by December 10th.

REPORT OF POLICE INVESTIGATIONS.

The following is the statement of Tsai Lan (蔡 磊) (15th accused) native of Canton taken by me D.S.I. Mac Adie D.S.I. Kao Yen-ken
at Special Branch on the 10-11/1/39 and interpreted by

My name is Tsai Lan, alias Tsai Wan (蔡 塢), Tsai Jen-heng (蔡 仁 恒), Li Ts-ming (李 子 明), Li Yah-yuin (李 雅 雲) and Moo Yung (慕 容) (nom de plume). I am 26 years of age, a native of Canton, and single. I resided at Lane 697, 5 Avenue Joffre. I am the chief of the Moral Training Department (in charge of the primary education of refugees) of the 1st Refugee Camp of the International Relief Committee, Rue Massanet, as well as the dean and teacher in the International Middle School located in the same camp. The Moral Training Department and the International Middle School are under the control of the Educational Department of the International Relief Committee, of which Mr. H.C. Chen, Chinese Education Officer of the S.M.C., is the principal. The Moral Training Department of the 1st Camp takes care of the primary education of the refugees in the 1st Camp only, while the International Middle School receives students from among refugees in any camps in Shanghai. The International Relief Committee situated in the Chinese Y.M.C.A. building, 123 Boulevard de Montigny, is now operating three refugee camps, namely, the 1st Camp on Rue Massanet, 2nd Camp on Rue Herve de Sieyes and the 6th Camp in the Chien Chwang Guild, corner of Haining and North Honan Roads.

At the age of six, I began my education at my native place at Canton. In February, 1931, I was sent by my grandfather to Shanghai and joined the "Ecole Technique Franco-Chinois", corner of Rue Lafayette and Avenue Roi Albert, as a student in the Supplementary Department. In 1932, I entered the Shanghai Law College, Rue Pere Robert, where I studied politics. In 1934, owing to the death of my grand-father, I returned to Canton. Two years later (1936), I came to Shanghai again and secured employment in the Editorial Department of the Shen Chow Kuo Kwang Zoe Bookstore, (神州國光社), 378 Foochow Road, as a proof-reader. I resigned from the position in March, 1937, and went to serve as a teacher in the Ming Ts (民智) Middle School, Weihaiwei Road, near Moulmein Road. Following the outbreak of hostilities in 1937, I was thrown out of employment. I joined the "Cultural Circles National Salvation Association," Pootung Guild Building, 1454 Avenue Edward VII. When I was studying in the Shanghai Law College, I made the acquaintance of a number of students who were communistic elements. A number of my fellow countrymen are also communistic elements. I preferred their company and I now admit that I am also a communist element. At that time I did not carry out any communistic activities, save for contributing articles of a leftist nature to the Chinese press. In October, 1937, Chang Ming-ts (張明之), who was a fellow countrymen and school-mate of mine, a communist element, introduced me to the 1st Refugee Camp of the International Relief Committee, Rue Massanet. Then the camp was in the charge of Miss Huang Ding-wei, Sub-Manageress of the Tung Yih Trust Company, 384 Peking Road, who was also the Chairman of the "Women's Circles' National Salvation Association," a secret organization. The members of the "Association of Students returned from Japan" (also leftists) formed the management. This association then had its headquarters in the Tsing Nien Middle School (青年), Avenue Joffre and its main object and enterprise was to conduct the national salvation movement. Shortly afterwards, the members of the association left for Nanking. Chang Ming-ts was one of the members and worked in the camp. When I joined the camp, Yao Zien-siu (姚仙修), also a member of the association, who acted as the Chief of the General Affairs Department of the camp, assigned me to work in the Moral Training Department. My work consisted of the preparation of 'pih pao' (wall papers) and teaching of refugees from the national salvation point of view. My position was then honorary. In August, 1938, the Educational Department of the International Relief Committee established the International Middle School for refugees and I was appointed dean and teacher of the school. Since that time, I have been receiving $20 per mensem from the camp management.

The Moral Training Department in question composes nine persons. Their duty, apart from teaching the young boys and girls, is to give lectures daily to the refugees on the current affairs and instil in them the national salvation and anti-Japanese movement. In September, 1938, I promoted a dramatic movement of a national salvation nature in the camp, but soon the French Police learned of the project and arrested eighteen of the actors. I was not on the scene, but was later summoned to the Police Headquarters at Loukawei, where I was fingerprinted and photographed. I was cautioned against such a movement and released.

In December, 1937, the Vocational Circles' National Salvation Association, a secret organization, convened a meeting of representatives of local refugee camps in a primary school on Park Road near Kuling Road, with a view to forming a body to conduct national salvation work among refugees. I attended on behalf of the 1st Refugee Camp of the International Relief Committee. During the meeting, a "Staff Members' Lien Nyi (Mutual Aid) Society of Various Refugee Camps" was formed and I was appointed to be a committee member. This Lien Nyi Society, a secret organization, situated at Room 218, Bubbling Well Building, Bubbling Well Road, was raided by the Municipal Police on December 31, 1937, and was thus dissolved.

In May, 1938, my cousin named Tsai Ying (蔡瑛) alias Tsai Hsin-yeu (蔡梓友) and Tsai Hsia-yung (蔡夏蓉) told me at her home at Lane 225, 30 Rue Pere Robert, that the sponsors of the "Unity" needed some person to assist in the editing, proof-reading and arranging of printing, and sought my opinion in undertaking such a secret task. As my cousin and I are both willing to offer our services in national salvation work, I readily agreed, whereupon she gave me a letter and sent me to the home of Pan Ts-ming (潘子明) alias Pan Fang (潘芳) and Pan Wei-ying (潘惠英).

Lane 559-B, 11 Rue Lafayette.

My cousin Tsai Ying, who is a committee member of the secret Women Circles' National Salvation Association, is an intimate friend of Pan's wife named Pan Kwoh Tseng-yih (潘郭真一), who is also a committee member of the Women's Circles' National Salvation Association.

Accordingly, I went to Pan's home, where I saw Pan and his wife Pan Kwoh Tseng-yih. Pan is aged about 35, a native of Anhwei, of medium build, wearing spectacles, usually dressed in a Chinese long gown, with leather shoes. He is a leftist writer of communist tendency. He is chief editor of the "Unity," mouthpiece of the "Various Circles National Salvation Association," a secret organization in Shanghai. Pan is known to me as the Chief of the Propaganda Department of the secret Cultural Circles National Salvation Association. He also contributes articles to the "Standard."

At Pan's home, Pan invited me to act as a sub-editor of the "Unity" under him and meanwhile to serve as a "communication agent" to get into contact with the persons responsible for the printing and distribution. On the following day, he took me to the secret type-setting base at Lane 587, 7 Medhurst Road, and introduced me to Bang Yuen-shen (彭元成) (3rd accused) and Ghui Pah-lee (裴伯礼) (9th accused), who were responsible for all arrangements regarding printing. He also sent me to get into touch with one Wong Ping (王斌), alias Lao Liu (老刘), living at 6 Sung Dah Li (聖達里), Route des Soeurs, who was responsible for the collection of printed copies from the bookbinding firm and thereafter distribution among representatives of the various "circles." Meanwhile Pan told me that this publication was entirely secret and that I should avoid becoming identified by the authorities. He also instructed me that I should keep my residential address secret from those under me and change my name to "Li Yah-yuin" (李雅雲).

The following procedure was adopted for the editing, printing and publishing of the "Unity" :-

Apart from contributing articles himself, Pan collected articles from representatives of various "circles." He represents the "Cultural Circles" and holds weekly meetings with the other representatives, numbering five in all. They are representatives of the (1) students, (2) labourers, (3) Vocational circles, (4) women, and (5) Educational circles. I do not know who they are. They are only known to Pan. I understand that Pan himself keeps his residential address secret from those representatives. The weekly meetings were held in modern style tea rooms in the French Concession, during which drafts were collected and arrangements were made for the time and venue for the next meeting. On receiving the drafts, he compiled them with my assistance. I also wrote articles should there be space in any issue. On the completion of the compilation, I sent the drafts to the secret type-setting base on Medhurst Road and instructed Bang and Ghui to arrange for the setting up of types. I and Pan served as proof-readers. When corrected, the types were then sent by Bang and Ghui to a type-setting works for the making of matrices, which were in turn sent to a printing press for printing. When printed, the copies were sent by Bang and Ghui to a book-binding works in the last house of the last alleyway in the Yung Chih Li, Weihaiwei Road for bookbinding. I do not know the names of those firms, as Bang and Ghui were responsible for that type of work. When I and Pan finished the proof-reading, I went to see the distribution agent Wong Ping alias Lao Liu at 6 Sung Dah Li, Route Des Soeurs and informed him that he might call one or two days later at the book-binding works for the copies for distribution. Wong as a rule took the copies when bound up from the bookbinding works and sent them direct to the distribution agents of the various "circles." I know that there are six representatives, namely, of the students, labourers, vocational circles, women, educational circles and the cultural circles, but I have no knowledge of their whereabouts. They are known to Wong Ping only. Pan told me that I should not enquire into Wong's activities and secrets, my duty being to convey messages to Wong. I understand that the distribution together with the number of copies is as follows :-

Class of people	Distribution Centre	No.of copies
Students	In nearly all middle schools and universities, as well as supplementary schools.	1,500

Association" is very much complicated and secret. I only know the part in which I myself was engaged. In November, 1938, Wong Ping left for Pootung owing to private affairs at home, and has not returned to Shanghai.

The property of the secret type-setting base was purchased by Pan Ts-ming for the sum of $200.00. From the National Salvation Association, I and Wong Ping receive $20 each per mensem while Pan gets $30 a month. Bang and Ghui responsible for the printing were given allowances according to work done.

Pan Tse-ming told me that the publication of the "Unity" was undertaken by the Cultural Circles National Salvation Association. It is a secret organization and governed by a committee including Chang Chung-ling (張宗麟, formerly a professor of the Shanghai University, and Liang Sz-jung (梁士純), a writer. I understand that the committee members are mostly leftist writers and educationalists and that most of them with the exception of Chang, Liang and a few others are not in Shanghai. I also learned that Chang Chung-ling concurrently acted as the Chief of the Finance Department of the Cultural Circles National Salvation Association. He gave money for the purchase of types in the secret type-setting base on Medhurst Road, and funds for the printing of the "Unity." It was he who also paid us allowances. Only Pan Ts-ming can get into touch with Chang, whose address has been kept secret from me.

For each issue, the cost for the printing and paper is around $80. The copies are sent out free of charge, but in order to meet the expenses, the readers are requested to contribute towards its upkeep. These contributions are collected by the various distributors and finally given to Wong Ping who in turn hands the sum to me for transfer to Pan Ts-ming. As a rule these contributions amounted to about $20 a issue. The names of contributors are published in "Unity" from time to time.

In September, 1938, Lao Yu (老余), full name unknown to me, who formerly worked in the Sung Weh Bookstore, Lane 384, 4 Foochow Road (now defunct) and who was known to me while I was working in the Shun Chow Kuo Kwang Toe Bookstore at 378 Foochow Road, came to the camp and asked me to arrange the printing of the communistic publication entitled "Emancipation" for him. He then knew from the senior members of the "National Salvation Association" that I was concerned in the printing of the "Unity". Later with the permission of Pan Ts-ming, I introduced Lao Yu to Bang and Ghui. They arranged the printing direct among themselves. I do not know the distribution of the "Emancipation" Lao Yu paid charges for the type-setting and printing to Bang and Ghui without going through me. I only understand that the "Emancipation" was not edited in Shanghai, it being published in Sian. Copies are reproduced in Shanghai.

As to the magazine "Women", it was the mouthpiece of the Women's Circles' National Salvation Association under the leadership of Miss Huang Ding-wei, Sub-Manageress of the Tung Yih Trust Company, 356 Peking Road. It started publication in May, 1938 and stopped in September, 1938, owing to financial difficulties. Miss Tsai Ying, my cousin, arranged the printing through my introduction at the secret type-setting base on Medhurst Road.

As to the "War Voice", it was published by the "Education Promoting Society" (普及教育社) (without an office). The printing of this magazine was introduced to Bang and Ghui by Pan Ts-ming direct, and therefore I know nothing about the origin.

I also know that Pan Ts-ming introduced a sponsor of the "Student's Livelihood" (學生生活), organ of the secret "Students' Circles National Salvation Association," to Bang and Ghui, but I cannot tell whether the periodical was printed through them.

As already mentioned, I kept my residential address secret from all those persons working under me. Even Bang and Ghui and Wong Ping do not know the identity and whereabouts of the other. On December 5, I learned of the arrest of Ghui Pan-lee, and began to clear my room of all literature connected with the publication "Unity." I packed it up in a box and deposited it in my cousin Tsai Ying's home on Route Pere Robert, while I deposited a part of my documents in the 1st Refugee Camp. Following Ghui's arrest, I refrained from staying at my residence or from attending the refugee camp. About a week later, I returned to live in my residence, but I did not attend the camp for fear of a visit by the Police authorities.

The Police authorities however unexpectedly visited my house on the early morning of January 4 and I was arrested.

Since the police raid on the secret type-setting base on Medhurst Road, the publications "Unity", "Emancipation", "Women" (ceased prior to the raid) and "War Voice" have not been able to make their appearance in Shanghai again. All those people connected with the publication, according to Pan Ts-ming, have instructions from the respective organs to suspend activities and do their best to avoid detection.

My name is Chu Han-sung, alias Chu Woo Shang (朱和尚). I am 37 years of age, a native of Shanghai and married. I am the Manager and owner of the Lien Ts (聯茨) Type-setting Works, Lane 140, 15 Love Lane. I live in the same address.

In July, 1938, Bang Yuen-shen (彭元甚) (3rd accused) who was a trade acquaintance of mine, came to me and asked me to make matrices for the publications "Emancipation" and "Unity." I accepted and did the work up to the end of November, 1938, when Bang was arrested by the Municipal Police. The price for making a matrix is $0.12. The usual price for such a work is $0.15, the cheaper charge being made owing to Bang and I being friends.

As a rule Ghui Pah-lee (9th accused) carried the set-up types to my works and after matrices were made, they were taken away by Ghui to the printing press, the name of which was kept secret from me. Although I know that the authorities would object to the printing of communistic and anti-Japanese matters and I did express the desire not to take up the work, yet I accepted it because Bang begged of me and assured me that he would take all the responsibility.

In the hot season of 1938, I noticed in the works a man, unknown to me, negotiating with Chu Han Sung (10th accused), the Manager of the Works, the making of matrices for the secret publications entitled "Unity" and "Emancipation". The works was only concerned in the making of matrices and has nothing to do with the type-setting and printing or binding of the publications. My name is Loh Ching Yoong. I am 51 years of age, a native of Kashan, Chekiang, and married. I am the Manager of the Shing Nyih Press, Lane 177, 42 Chungking Road I reside in the same press.

In May, 1938, I began to undertake the printing of the "Emancipation" (解放), "Unity" (團結), "Women" (婦女), and "Students Livelihood" (one issue only), on behalf of Bang Yuen Shen (3rd accused) and Ghui Pah-lee (9th accused). In July, 1938, I refused to continue the printing because I was aware that such publications were prohibited by the authorities. I understood that Bang and Ghui entrusted the printing to some other firm which I do not know (The Han Wen Press), but as they were not satisfied with the printing of the other firm, they came back to me in August, 1938, and begged of me to continue the printing. This I did to the end of November, 1938, when Bang was arrested by the Municipal Police.

The price for the printing of these publications was cheaper. Usually, I charged $1.40 for the printing of 500 broad sheets of paper, whereas I made a charge of only $1.05 to Bang and Ghui. There were 2 reasons for this special treatment; firstly because they paid me in cash on delivery and secondly because they claimed these publications to be of a patriotic nature.

When printed, the copies were taken away by either Bang or Ghui to a bookbinding firm, the name of which Bang and Ghui never told me.

ESCAPE

When the writer and one Mr. T., living together, were discussing the sending of clothing to one Mr. Zung being detained by the authorities in connection with the "struggle for the existence and independence of the nation", one Mr. B. brought them the information that one Lau Zee had also been arrested in a hotel. Lau Zee was absent during a visit by the authorities as he had expected the raid but his uncle, tailor of a foreign clothing shop, was held in pledge. The X X side demanded $2,000 for his release should he fail to produce the wanted man. Subsequently Lau Zee was induced to a hotel and placed under arrest.

Following Lau Zee's arrest, Mr. B. advised the writer to "clear up his room" and to conceal himself at some friend's place. The writer then told his female companion to bring a box to Sister N's place and also informed her that he would meet her there after he had visited Mr. B. in a certain society for information.
